Notes

A. for patents not licensed via IEEE1588; B. for products licensed via IEEE1588

A. That on request it will license all Necessary Claims and other necessary IPR owned by it and inherent in the resulting Specification on a perpetual, non-exclusive and worldwide basis, without compensation and otherwise on a RAND basis, to all Implementers

B. The Member agrees to the same terms, except with regard to compensation, and reserves the right to charge a royalty or other fee on RAND terms.

C. The Member identifies on Exhibit B certain Necessary Claim(s) and/or other IPR under the Draft Specification, in its current form, and the portion of the Draft Specification that would Necessarily Infringe such Necessary Claims or other IPR, and hereby notifies the Consortium that no guarantee of license rights is being made (or that such rights will in fact be denied in all cases) as to such Necessary Claims. (Note: You may elect option i. or ii. as to some Necessary Claim(s), and this option as to other Necessary Claim(s)).

Note: If the primary representative (or their delegate) does not respond by the deadline, then the default answer on the IPR Election Form on A.3 will be A.3(b).
